Real Time Rendering Fourth Edition

ray tracing in one weekend - realtimerendering - in 3d.  $a$  is the ray origin and  $b$  is the ray direction. the ray parameter  $t$  is a real number (float in the code). plug in a different  $t$  and  $p(t)$  moves the point along the ray. add in negative  $t$  and you can go anywhere on the 3d line. for positive  $t$ , you get only the parts in front of  $a$ , and this real time rendering - catia design - real time rendering 2 (rtr) is a product allowing designers to interactively create realistic and dynamic renderings and animations in real-time, by extensively using all the hardware features available. real time rendering - catia - catia version 5 real time rendering is a next generation catia solutions product that allows you to define material specifications that will be shared across your entire product development process as well as map materials onto parts to produce photo-realistic images. material specifications define the characteristics of materials: real-time rendering with lighting grid hierarchy - real-time rendering. an important obstacle for using vpls in real-time rendering has been the challenge of efficiently handling many light sources. clustered shading [olsson et al. 2012] is the first method that presented real-time rendering performance with one million point lights; however, it assumes local illumination. stochastic light culling real-time rendering of procedural multiscale materials - real-time rendering of procedural multiscale materials tobias zirr nvidia karlsruhe institute of technology anton s. kaplanyany nvidia figure 1: example of various materials with microdetails rendered with our procedural real-time approach on nvidia geforce 980 gtx modern real-time rendering techniques - nvidia - - [tariq and yuksel10] s. tariq, c. yuksel, "advanced techniques in real time hair rendering and simulation", siggraph 2010 course - [ni 10] tianyun ni, "enriching details using direct3d 11 tessellation", gdc 2010 talk real-time rendering of plant leaves - yale university - real-time rendering of plant leaves lifeng wang wenle wang* julie dorsey† xu yang‡ baining guo heung-yeung shum microsoft research asia *tsinghua university tyale university †nankai university (a) (b) (c) (d) figure 1: leaves rendered with our approach. (a)-(d) are balata, pelargonium, omoto and prunus leaves respectively. advances in real-time rendering in games - advances in real-time rendering in games. by tracking the closest distance a ray passed by an occluder, we can compute an approx cone intersection with no extra cost. this approximation works surprisingly well and is the basis for solving area shadowing and sky occlusion with distance fields. light propagation volumes in cryengine 3 - real-time rendering - time. there are a number of other real-time approaches to diffuse global illumination, for instance, screen-space global illumination [rgs09] (the extension for screen-space ambient occlusion), which in turn takes only screen-space information into account and thus has single view 2d locality as a disadvantage. realistic, real-time rendering of ocean waves - their physically-based approach for wave simulation and rendering is time-consuming and impractical for real-time applications. a survey of different methods for deep water animation can be found in [jensen 2001]. the author also discusses hardware acceleration techniques for ocean rendering. real-time rendering techniques with hardware tessellation - real-time rendering techniques with hardware tessellation m. nießner1 and b. keinet2 and m. fisher1 and m. stamminger2 and c. loop3 and h. schäfer2 1stanford university 2university of erlangen-nuremberg 3microsoft research abstract graphics hardware has been progressively optimized to render more triangles with increasingly flexible shading.
